GLEASON TO JAIL.

Long Island City's Mayor Gets Five Days and $250 Fine.

Sentenced by Judge Cullen After a Scathing Rebuke.

The Law's Retribution for His Assault on Reporter Crowly.

Mayor Patrick J. Gleason, of Long Island City, was this morning sentenced to five days' imprisonment in the county jail and a fine of $250 for his assault upon Reporter Crowly.

Nobody expected that Patrick Jerome Glesson, Mayor of Long Island City, would

MAYOR PATRICK JEROME GLEASON. receive a sentence of imprisonment for his assault, Sept. 9, on Reporter George R.

Crowly in Tony Miller's Hotel, Least of all did the massive magistrate himself expect to spend even a minute be-hind bars that have confined criminals of the very worst type. For two hours before the opening of the court there was the most feverish interest exhibited in the approaching proceedings. Large as the court-room was it was entirely inadquate for the proper accommoda-mon B. Noble, his lawyer. They took seats in front of the jury box LANCASTER'S MYSTERY SOLVED. and directly on their left were Plaintiff Crowly and the District Attorney. The Mayor looked sullen and conderous.

Crowly appeared chipper and confident. In the room were these well-known politicians: Judge Manly, Justice Brandon, of Newtown; Assemblyman McKenna, ex-Sheriff Goldner, Mitchell, Coroner Robinson, Corporation Counsel Foster, Lawyer Allen, School Commissioner Kavanagh, Aldermen Smith, Claven, Desthat she was about to return from Ohio and mond, Assessor James Darien, Police Commond, Assessor James Darien, Police Commissioner Coleman and many others.

They went to hear nothing greater than a fine and a term of imprisonment was not even thought of. When they heard the sentence they were awed and silent.

It was a staggerer for Mayor Gleason, and his broad face was diffused with a burning blush as he listened to the Justice's scathing words.

His counsel, Solomon R. Noble, before the Court gave its decision, made an heroic effort to save his client. He presented a motion for a stay of proceedings, a motion for a suspension of judgment and a motion for a new trial.

Lawyer Noble read affidavits of Jurors Thomas Kelly, John B. Buckhout and Jacob Hi, Gebhard, who swore that an officer of the court, on the noon of the scound day of the scount, on the noon of the scound day of the scount, on the noon of the scound day of the scount, on the noon of the scound day of the scount, on the noon of the scound day of the scount is contained to the way from this city to Philadelphia, seventy miles, to be with him. Only candidates for county and city offices have been named by the League, and they must be certified, under the Ballot-Reform law, as independent nominations, With only these nominees in the field, the official ballot bearing the caption. ther company, City of New York has won Each district by nominating an independent Hitherto the City of New York has won dates, selecting the nominees of either party for their purpose.

Here, however, comes the rub. The P. M. L. never proposed to interfere in the natter of Congressional and Assembly iominations, which they acknowledge to be of a "political" and not a "business" character, and they do not desire to show paracter, and they do not desire to show par-trality between candidates for these offices. One full ticket will not do, and the law steps in apparently to prevent their having more than that number. for it says that one organization can have but one candidate for the same office in a district.

Thus the liquidhean element of the League would be antagonized should the Democratic candidate for Congress or As-sembly be selected and vice versa. The result would be a practical disruption of the Reformers ranks.

Row To ORT BOUND THE LAW.

A possible solution of the difficulty is suggested by the nomination as independent candidates of the nomines of each of the factions in the several districts, with requests that P. M. I., county candidates names be printed on the ticket.

This arrangement, however, would result in a ticket with a caption other than 'People's Municipal League.' which would be undesirable.

Neither is it positive that such a ticket could be legally provided.

Whatever the demand may be, it is safe to predict that County Clerk Scully will refuse it, and the result will be an appeal to the courts, and the possibility of a failure to print all the bailots on time.

In case of such failure unofficial ballots may provided, under Section 'I of the law, and by the use of such unofficial ballots the P. M. L. might secure what theeless.

'No matter what that decision is," said Mr. Moss. "we will refuse to receive any Mr. Moss." Mr. Moss. "we will refuse to receive any such request."
This will shut out John E. Brodsky and "Silver Bollar" Smith in the Eighth District and make them go to the courts for relief, and will probably blast the hopes of many more independent candidates who had expected to make some valuable combination ballots.
